ABOUT OUR SYMBOL

The Rob Roy MacGregor tartan brought to America in the 19th century by my great uncle, Big Jock McCluskey, an adventurer and trader from Scotland. Like many things that crossed the Atlantic, the tartan gained a new American name, Buffalo Plaid. Today it is the symbol of BraeVal.

Our apparel is the result of original American design born of comfort, and time-tested classics in the Scottish tradition. This fusion is uniquely American and distinctly BraeVal.
